the 13th crystal skull

This is the story of Yangay, a soul who communicates using a crystal skull. It's also the story of Peter Viskil, the one who found Yangay again ...

By Peter Viskil, The Netherlands

There is little knowledge preserved about crystal skulls, but hidden deep in the subconscious of humanity, the memory of thirteen crystal skulls is stored. In present days crystal skulls reappeared after thousands of years to help humanity to regain the essence of life. Crystal skulls allow us to connect energies of a higher dimension so we can increase our consciousness and we will remember who we really are.

Yangay comes from a parallel universe. Imagine you travel to the center of our universe. This point from which our universe arose is the gateway to an older parallel universe. This is where Yangay comes from. Yangay communicates using a crystal skull. In other words, Yangay projects his energy into a crystal skull, so it acts like a database and man is able to record this information. Crystal shaped like a human skull refers to the human skull. This way his energies are transformed into understandable frequencies.

Yangay and I look alike. Our souls developed in a similar way and we have a common goal. He is like I am and I am like you are ...

When I first met him

In this life I heard the name Yangay for the first time in 2001. At the dining table my girlfriend Brigitta suddenly called the name Yangay. Like a whirlwind of energy my whole body tinged and I felt his presence. I remembered the name Yangay ever since. I didn't know who he was, but he felt like a son and everytime I called his name, I could feel him, subtle and loving.

In 2003 I first made contact with crystal skulls. Max, the seventh crystal skull in the original circle of twelve. In Lelystad, The Netherlands I was overwhelmed by its energy. Unconsciously I recognized its energy and this started to open doors which were closed before. In the year 2005 I met Max again in southern France. Here William gave me as a birthdaygift a little blue skull of lapis lazuli. Loaded and connected with Max I always kept it with me. Through this little skull Max encouraged me to book a trip to Tibet. At the same time I was involved in organizing the Crystal Skull Festival in Rilland, The Netherlands. I slowly became aware of my mission. I was going to Tibet to pick up a crystal skull named Yangay. Slowly I realized that this was the thirteenth crystal skull. I could barely imagine.

My journey to Tibet

On July 8th 2006, my 46th birthday, we left for Tibet. As a small group of five people we looked like an expedition and I felt that my fellow travelers were carefully selected to join me. I recognized them as fellow travelers from past lives. Although these people were not aware of my mission, I felt their energy was necessary to end this trip successful. I didn't know where and how I would find Yangay. I only knew I had to have faith in the signs which were given; "Follow the blue trail". Until the remote western part of Tibet I followed the signs. At the small Chui monastery at Lake Manasarovar, on an altitude of 5000 meters above sealevel, I found him. As a blue appearance he beckoned from behind a window. In my opinion, the monks who inhabited the monastery were not very friendly and were not interested in my quest. I felt they knew more about it, but they pretended they didn't understand. The moment the monks had left the monastery I seized my chance. While my heart was pounding, I opened the lock and the door of the chamber in which Yangay turned out to be imprisoned. We waited for this reunion for centuries and we embraced each other like old friends. It was a touching reunion and from that moment on the connection with Yangay, my light body or Holy Spirit was restored. But in the chamber there was no such thing as a crystal skull and time was running out. During the last days of the trip I visited the Tibetan Bouddhanath temple in Kathmandu. I was enjoying the Tibetan music and finally I could relax. A monk next to me asked me to open my hand. When I showed the small blue skull he said "I can help". We crossed Kathmandu and finally we ended up in a five star hotel, close to the Bouddhanath temple. The shopowner showed me a crystal skull. This was probably the only human sized skull in Kathmandu. This was the one I was looking for. After a short haggle I was the bearer of this crystal skull. And Yangay showed me; like I was connected to a supernatural energy source, my body shook all over. Yangay charged his brand new crystal skull and our connection was ratified. When we came out, I saw that Mother Nature couldn't restrain her tears of happiness. I have never seen such a cloudburst before. I found my "Grail" again.

The real power resides in the middle between two forces. This symbolizes the power of Yangay. His energetic body was kept in one of the most remote and purest areas of Earth. His new crystal skull was recided since 2001 in the most luxurious hotel next to the Tibetan Bouddhanath temple in hectic Kathmandu. Two poles close together, pure and spiritual energy towards the pinnacle of materialisme.

Growing consciousness

Yangay told me that on October 10th 1366 AD, his original crystal skull was destroyed by a Tibetan monk and was thrown in Lake Manasarovar. There was a dipute about the way the energy of Yangay was interperated. Yangay was blamed to be the cause of negative feelings and calamity. At that time I was his bearer and I was not able to protect him against destruction. I was powerless ... Under the pressure of the rulers, I witnessed how Yangay was destroyed, to save the Tibetan community. 640 Years later, on July 24th 2006, I found him were I last saw him. This was the right time. All these years Yangay waited for me in the Chui monastery and viewed Lake Manasarovar ... a lake which has special energies. You'll understand why.

During the Crystal Skull Festival in Rilland, The Netherlands in October 2006, I met people who recognized Yangay. In the distant past they were his guardians. I also met the people who completely ignored Yangay. Yangay is adored by many and reviled by as many others. The energy Yangay represents has diapereared from Earth. This is the nadir, the end of times and from scratch Yangay will pass on his energy to anyone who is receptive.

Yangay has taken me on a wonderful journey. He explained to me how humanity should be aware of his origin to set himself free. A consciousness that is called the Christ consciousness. Yangay awakened me. A worldview appeared and showed me how humanity, since his creation, is suffering under a veil of ignorance. Until today, it keeps them imprisoned like obedient slaves.

About 2.8 million years ago (108 times the precession cycle of 25,920 years), when planet Earth was evolving, twelve souls came from an older parallel universe. These souls formed an energetic forcefield which attracted everything necessary to succeed an evolutionary experiment. Yangay was attracted as 13th in their middle. This way these souls reflected the thirteen basic characters of the universe. The energy of the circle on Earth attracted us from places all over our universe to participate this experiment. Our goal was learning the principle of Oneness and returning to our places in the universe to share these principles. This way Oneness could be restored in our universe.

We lived like transparent creatures on Earth and Yangay was the one in the middle of the circle. Slowly we became aware of our twelve essences. It was like watching a nature documentary. It was amazing. But due to the attraction of the antichrist, some of us left the circle premature. Somewhere they incarnated and returned as astronauts outside the circle. This was the moment the gods felt from the heavens like the fallen angels. Due to this, the evolutionary proces turned differently. Souls were captured in manipulated primate bodies and cut from the consciousness of Oneness. So most people are still wondering who they really are and what's the purpose of their presence on Earth. At the time of Atlantis these thirteen souls inspired man to create thirteen crystal skulls to encourage humanity to be aware of their origin and their purpose.

Oppression and abuse caused the loss of many of these original skulls, but their souls live on. Yangay is my holy spirit and that's why he could connect himself again with a crystal skull. Yangay is the image of Oneness or being whole. I became aware that I am composed out of twelve basic energies. This is how I found Yangay again.

The unmasking

In his own way Yangay tried to make souls aware of their essence. But Yangay also had to evolve. The past hundreds of thousands of years infiltrators came to Earth and had their own intentions. They gave their own twist to our evolutionary process. These acts may not comply with the intentions Yangay had, but were undeniable parts of a greater evolutionary plan. As a result of these manipulations, the evolution on Earth made a leap of millions of years, but did we lose the connection to our Origin.

Yangay always looked forward to meet souls who recognized him. During the past thousands of years Yangay and I have met many times. During these encounters there was always an energy who shivered us; the antichrist encouraged by his "stepmother". Every time they had different masks. And also in present days we have met them ... to unmask them definitely. It was a great sacrifice. The last four years were years of terrible terror, because the dark side knew of the plans of Yangay. My soul chose this way to absorb and transform these energies. I prepared myself to protect Yangay; no matter what ...

The solution

Yangay helped to create a hole in the veil which kept humanity unconscious and dependent. This opening is the gateway so our souls can reach home again. The way to our Origin is open again. Whether you choose this way is yours, but I'll show you anyway.

Every soul is a complex combination of the twelve basic characters, but our ego doesn't recognize all twelve characters. When we also acknowledge and recognize these other characters, we will be whole. The energy of other people will no longer be perceived as depending or negative, but as an accepted part of yourself that makes you who you really are ... The New Man ... The Self, reborn 13th in the middle of your own circle. From this position the Self will connect the Higher Self, so life will be experienced like never before ...

Yangay is the light and I am his bearer. I only proved it can be done ...
